

Radana Foltýnová
University of Ostrava

Collaborative Piano Master Classes

Friday, October 26, 2018
4:00 P.M. – 5:00 P.M.

Tuesday, October 30, 2018
10:00 A.M. – 11 A.M.

Sherman Van Solkema Recital Hall
Haas Center for Performing Arts

Friday

Wie Melodien zieht es mir

Johannes Brahms (1833-1897)

Emily Emerson, vocalist
Grace Brylinski, piano

Sonata in E-flat Major Op. 120, No. 2

Johannes Brahms (1833-1897)

Ryan Schmidt, clarinet
Angela Schmitt, piano

Tuesday

Grace Brylinski, piano

Radana Foltýnová, piano, graduated from the Janáček Conservatoire in Ostrava and the University of Ostrava. During her studies attended several national and international competitions, including the 1993 Smetana Piano Competition in Hradec Králové, Czech Republic (second - prize winner), the 1994 International Piano Competition in Kill, Sweden (fourth - prize winner), the 1998 Janáček Piano Competition in Brno, Czech Republic (second - prize winner and an award for the best interpretation of Janáček). Currently, Radana is an Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Fine Arts at University of Ostrava. She is a sought-after chambre musician and has collaborated with both wind and string soloists. She has appeared as soloist with leading Czech orchestras, gives solo and chamber recitals in the Czech Republic and abroad (Austria, Poland, Slovakia and Sweden), and records for Czech Radio and Television.