

INFORMATION ON THE RIGHT TO OBJECT TO DATA PROCESSING

1. The Right to Object

Every person, whose personal data are processed by the University of Ostrava, has the right to object to the processing of any of his personal data. Nevertheless, this right is applicable only in the following cases:

- 1) University of Ostrava processes any personal data of a particular person and does so because it is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested to the University of Ostrava.
- 2) University of Ostrava processes any personal data of a particular person and does so because it is necessary for purposes of its legitimate interests.
- 3) University of Ostrava processes any personal data of a particular person and does so because it is necessary for purposes of scientific or historical research or for statistical purposes.
- 4) University of Ostrava processes any personal data of a particular person and does so for purposes of direct marketing.

Objection, which a person raises in cases mentioned in the previous paragraph under number 1, 2, or 3, must be based on grounds concerning particular situations of the person who raises the objection. University of Ostrava does not process the personal data which were the subject of the objection. Aforementioned restriction of subsequent processing lasts from the moment, when the University of Ostrava receives the objection, until the moment, when the University of Ostrava settles the objection. The University of Ostrava may process the personal data, whose processing was objected, only if it proves at least one of the following facts:

- 1) University of Ostrava processes any personal data, whose processing was objected, but because of important and justified reasons for such processing, which outweigh the interests or the rights of the person, who raised the objection.
- 2) University of Ostrava processes any personal data, whose processing was objected, but because of important and justified reasons to determine, execute or defend legal claims.

Objection, which is raised for the reason mentioned in the preceding paragraph under the number 4, does not have to be based on grounds concerning particular situation of the person who raises the objection. The aforementioned objection can be raised anytime. University of Ostrava does not further process personal data, that were the subject of the objection and that were processed exclusively for purposes of direct marketing. The aforementioned restriction of further processing is thereafter permanent.
